CITRUS GROWER MEETING SET FOR MAY 24

Election of permanent officers is planned by the Porterville area unit of the California Citrus Producers association at a meeting scheduled for the Vandalia school next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

In addition to the election, a progress report on the association will be made by temporary state delegates, Victor Bowker and Paul Moore. The report will cover action by the association concerning grower problems of the citrus industry.

The California Citrus Producers association was organized about four months ago in southern California to study and seek action on problems of citrus growers, with such matters as industry advertising, spread in citrus price between grower and consumer, freight rates, the functioning of auction markets and prices to growers considered.

Since organization, the association has expanded into many of the citrus producing areas of the state. Mr. Bowker and Mr. Moore were elected at a grower meeting in Porterville as state delegates to the association and have attended the regular monthly meetings and special sessions.

The Vandalia meeting is designed to set up a stronger local organization of citrus producers.

DEVELOPMENT OF WATER IS BUREAU AIM

Utilization of a full supply of water for the ultimate development of the Central valleys of California, is the basic aim of the Bureau of Reclamation in connection with the Central Valleys project, it was stated Wednesday evening by R. B. Cozzens, Bureau of Reclamation manager of the Tulare Basin district, at the second of a series of meetings on water problems being arranged at Terra Bella by the Terra Bella chamber of commerce.

Mr. Cozzens said that the Central Valley project is designed to bring water from the northern part of the state into the southern San Joaquin valley; that such a project is necessary since two-thirds of the central valleys water is in the northern half of the central area of the state while two-thirds of the irrigable land is in the southern half.

He said that if power was not developed in connection with the project, cost would be so high that farmers could not afford Central Valley project water the price of which will probably be $3.50 per acre foot for class one water and $1.50 per acre foot for class two water at canal side.

After completion of the project, slated for 1951 if federal (Continued on page 8)

IT'S THE MAN THAT COUNTS IN SUPERVISORIAL ELECTION

The right of a Tulare county supervisor to conduct his own business, in addition to county business, has never been questioned by people of the county, in fact there have been few supervisors through the years who have not conducted their personal business while in office.

Each of the three candidates for supervisor in the first district, that embraces Lindsay, Strathmore Springville, Doyle Colony and Porterville, has personal business interests and, as far as we know, intends to continue to conduct his private business even though elected to the post of supervisor.

Consequently, the question of whether or not a man is in private business, or the type and extent of that business is not an issue in the current election, since all three candidates are in about the same category in this respect.

The main factor that you and I, as voters and residents of the first supervisorial district have to consider, is the calibre of man seeking election and the ability of that man to administer an organization of the size that Tulare county has become.

Of course, in our first district, the man with that ability is Rodgers L. Moore. He is the type and calibre of man that you and I should elect to public office - specifically, the office of supervisor from the first district of Tulare county.

Frank Menne Has Best Bull In Special Class

Ace-Hi Polled Herefords from Freeland Farnsworth ranch placed second and third in the special class and a Hereford from the Wilbur Dennis ranch in Ducor placed fourth.

Are you keeping an eye on Guy? Guy Lombardo, the orchestra leader, has been working overtime lately, trying to get his $100,000 speedboat, Tempo VI, to knock over Gar Wood's 18-year-old record of 124.86 miles per hour. When you go that fast on water you pray you don't hit anything heavier than a blond whisker - - - or you might take off. Lombardo got his skimmer up to 119 at Desert Beach on the Salton Sea. That is fast enough for me - but not fast enough for a record. You usually think of orchestra leaders as being long haired characters, who barely have strength enough to wave a light baton, but Lombardo cancels that out on a high note. Any fellow who is willing to sit behind the music of a 12 cylinder 1300 H.P. Allison motor is asking for a harp-playing position! Many of us get a little giddy just troling from a dinghy equipped with an outboard motor.

Are you keeping your eye on your stock of potables? It's a good idea to have plenty of good liquor on hand to take care of those unexpected guests that are always dropping in! DEVELOPMENT OF WATER IS BUREAU AIM appropriations are continued, some 500,000 acre feet of class one water and about the same amount of class two water will be brought into the Tulare basin as a yearly average, with the Tulare basin generally the area from Fresno south to the Tehachapi mountains. Total cost of the project is expected to run more than $380,000,000.

Mr. Cozzens said that in the southern San Joaquin valley, there is at present an overdraft of 1,350,000 acre feet of water per year, making it essential that the Central Valleys project be completed. He said that about 650,000 acres of land along the Friant-Kern canal will probably receive project water, with some 375,000 acres of this land now developed.

Concerning the controversial 160-acre limitation, Mr. Cozzens said that this limitation is not on land ownership but rather on water use. He said that the limitation is set up in regulations controlling the Bureau of Reclamation, but that the Bureau has no control over uses of private property, that if man owns more than 160 acres, he can use Central Valley water on 160 acres of his property and can do what he wants to with the rest. If he wants to use project water on more than 160 acres, he must agree to sell excess lands at the end of 10 years.

Mr. Cozzens said that if irrigation districts contract with Bureau of Reclamation for distribution systems, built with interest free money loaned for a 40-year period, the district will operate those systems. He said that although there is no provision in Bureau of Reclamation law for assured renewal of water or distribution system contracts with the Bureau at the end of 40 years, there is little doubt that such renewal will be made since there is nothing else that can be done with the water and with the systems.

Concerning local aspects of project construction, Mr. Cozzens said that a 500-day contract for a 14-mile stretch of canal between the Kaweah river and the Tule may be let this week and that water should actually be flowing south of the Tule by 1950. Second class water, he said, may reach the Kaweah river area by April of next year.

During a question and answer period, Mr. Cozzens stated that the federal government has no control over private lands, other than to enforce provisions of the law that says water may be delivered to a single individual for irrigation of no more than 160 acres of land; that the Bureau of Reclamation in other areas has always renewed contracts; that the Secretary of the Interior, under existing law, does not have the power to reduce, or increase, the acreage limitation; that the federal government cannot tell any farmer what to plant on his land, that banks are loaning money in other areas on property served by Bureau of Reclamation projects and that an excess land holder need not use his quota of water on the same 160 acres each year.

Mr. Cozzens was introduced by Clarence Bradford; the meeting was opened by Pete Ferguson, Terra Bella chamber president.

Farmers produced, during the war years, enough to support themselves and 13 others as an individual average in the nation.

Three Diseases Cause Hog Losses

The first important step if hogs are sick is a diagnosis. This is difficult because frequently the symptoms are similar for different diseases.

According to Robert H. Anderson, assistant farm advisor, there are three widespread diseases that cause large losses of hogs - - Cholera, Swine Erysipelas, and Brucellosis. Losses from these diseases can be greatly reduced through prevention and control measures. The hogs can be immunized against hog cholera and swine erysipelas.

As far as brucellosis is concerned, the vaccine for its control is yet to be developed, so for lack of anything better the recommendation is to follow a carefully planned breeding program that includes blood testing of all the breeding stock, and as it becomes practicable, sell off the positive reactors. The Agricultural Extension Service located in the post office building, Visalia, can help outline such a program as recommended by The University of California.

Sanitation is highly effective in any case. New animals should be segregated and watched for evidence of disease. Any sick pigs should be separated immediately.

Several bulletins on disease and prevention are available at the Farm Advisor's office in the Post Office Building, Visalia.

Group Presents Radio Programs

First in a series of local broadcasts "Small Town Pattern," was presented last Saturday evening over radio station KTIP, by the Porterville Players with other broadcasts in the series to be presented each Saturday evening.

The show is written and directed by Jeanne McConnell. The production is sponsored by the Porterville Recreation department, headed by Jim Tidwell.

Mr. Tidwell states that the purpose of the group is to bring together persons who desire to participate in the production, writing and presentation of radio and stage plays. Persons interested should contact Bill Lund, president of the Porterville Players or Kaye Holmes, secretary.

Thirty Booths Shown At Fair

Some 30 booths, most of them commercial displays, were shown in the Porterville high school gymnasium as a feature of the First Annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community Fair held last Friday and Saturday on the high school campus.

Non-commercial, display booths included entries by the community of Poplar, the Ducor 4-H club, the community of Terra Bella, the local Forest service and the Porterville Women's club.

Ditch Banks Danger Points For Farm Tractors

Farming continues to be the most hazardous of occupations. Robert H. Anderson, assistant Farm Advisor, says in recent accidents on California farms tractors led as the greatest menace of life and limb.

A study of farm accidents in California is made from month to month by R. R. Parks, specialist in agricultural engineering of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. Parks reports that 25 per cent of the tractor accidents he has surveyed recently were fatal ones. All of the tractor accidents were caused by turning over on ditch banks.

Three wheel tractors are more susceptible to upsets than four wheel tractor, but in recent tractor accidents a number of four wheel units got out of control. Parks does not think tractor manufacturers could do much to make tractors safe from accidents of this type. Row crop use

Aphis Control Important Now

Apple, plum and prune trees have more than their respective shares of aphis this spring says A. D. Rizzi, assistant farm advisor in Tulare county.

This pest which harms the leaves by sucking out the sap requires contact sprays in order to be controlled. In the past, nicotine dusts have given fair control. In later years while nicotine and oil combination sprays and a doil combination sprays appeared to be effective.

More recently the new phosphate sprays referred to as bladen and sold under many trade names have been very effective for aphis control. Recommendations by the manufacturers are that these materials be applied as liquid sprays. Dust and fog machine methods of application have not been at all successful except against walnut aphis.

in California calls for higher tractors. Spreading the wheel adjustments will help to make them safer from tipping.

This traditional Visalia celebration, adjourned during the war, is being resumed this month-end in all its prewar color and action.

First event of the big three-day show will start Friday with the 12 noon homecoming picnic on the Municipal Library grounds. Here oldtimers will register, eat their picnic lunches, and be entertained by western music, an old fiddlers' contest, and historic program provided by the Tulare County Historical Society.

In the afternoon Sweetheart contestants from county communities will ride in the horsemanship contest, and in the evening the Sweetheart dinner will be followed by personality judging of contestants. The winning Sweetheart will be awarded a trip to the Salinas rodeo in June for herself and chaperone, with all expenses paid.

High Class Hogs Shown At Fair

High class hogs from southeastern Tulare county area were on display at the First Annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair held last week on the Porterville high school campus, with Roy Southwick in charge of the display.

Clarence Gibson showed Duroc hogs and exhibiting Poland Chinas were A. D. Graves and Son, Rolla Bishop's Monache Farm, Burgess Conley and Charles Cummings.

Tomato acreage in California is expected to run 110,000 acres this year as compared to 134,215 acres last year, according to figures released by the State Crop and Livestock Reporting service.

Saturday morning the traditional parade will take the Centennial Gold Rush theme. Floats, old time vehicles, riding units, and novel entries are expected to depict the early days of this area.

At 1:30 p. m., Saturday following the grand entrance of riders into the new rodeo grounds, parade and Sweetheart awards will be announced, the grounds will be dedicated, and the first big rodeo show will take place. Sunday afternoon the second rodeo show will be held.

The Saturday night demonstration of square and folk dancing and the street dance, and the Sunday morning memorial services will complete the activities. Whiskerinos will be judged for the longest, best trimmed and curliest beards.

Visitors are invited to join with Visalians and wear western or centennial garb during the three-day celebration.

Fertilizer tests with spinach, onions, celery, potatoes and sweet potatoes are being run by the Truck crop division at Davis.

Feed on Three Rivers cattle ranges is reported as being as good as in any recent year.

Trout Planted In Mountians

About 8,000 trout were planted last week in the Tule river east of Springville and some 4,000 in the Hot Springs country by representatives of the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association, and in addition, about 65,000 were placed in the Morehouse ponds.

Heading the group planting in the Springville area was Art Griswold; Earl Gary headed the group going to Hot Springs.

The fish were secured from the Sequoia hatchery, and ran up to seven and one-half inches in length.

California Poultry Improvement association reports that in March of this year, it took 136 eggs to buy 100 pounds of feed, an increase of 26 eggs over the previous year.

California wheat production is estimated at 9,526,000 bushels for 1948, a 21 per cent decrease from the previous year.

Dairy Cattle Displayed At Fair

Examples of some of the excellent dairy cattle in the southeastern Tulare county area were shown by dairymen at the First First Annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair held Friday and Saturday on the Porterville high school campus.

Sid Longacre displayed purebred Jerseys from his Alta Vista ranch; Chester Gilbert also showed purebred Jerseys from Westwood Farm; Kenley Mays had several head of purebred Jerseys from the South Tule River Jersey farm and C. M. Pixley exhibited Milking Shorthorns.

Chester Gilbert headed up the dairy cattle display section.

SECOND SET OF SHORTHORN TWINS BORN

A record of two sets of twin calves from his herd of registered Shorthorns, was established last week by Ralph "Pinky" Jones when another of his cows came through with two instead of the usual single calf.

A few weeks ago the first set of twins was born at the Jones ranch, and now it's two sets in one season for the Jones' Shorthorns.

A field demonstration on new grain varieties is being held this morning at 10 o'clock at the Henry Lubking ranch, five and one-half miles west and one mile north of Ducor. Ralph Worrell, assistant county farm advisor, will be in charge of the meeting.

THE OLD DAYS

PORTERVILLE ENTERPRISE

MAY 11, 1900

The petition to incorporate the city of Porterville was presented to the board of supervisors on Monday. The hearing was postponed until June 7, when the matter will be fully argued.

When the matter comes up, it will probably consume the attention of the board for a couple of days, as there will be about 50 persons present who will have something to say pro and con.

The South Tule school closed Friday with an evening entertainment. Mr. Buckman, the teacher arranged an excellent program and the manner in which each pupil rendered his part reflects great credit on the teacher.

Appearing on the program were: Glenn Manier, Earl Asdell, George Webster, Ethel Rose, Ray Asdell, Willie Wardlow, Mary Webster, Minnie Witt and Claude Sabine.

There was quite a smash up on the Tulare-Visalia railroad Saturday evening, caused by a calf attempting to cross the track just as the train came along.

The engine was ditched and the passenger coach behind was turned over. Fortunately, no one was killed, although several persons received painful injuries.

On Monday, R. Baker, A. Leslie, R. H. Mahaffey, J. Carter, James Willson, Miss Belle Willson and G. G. Murry took the Flyer to Visalia.

John Templeton is expected to leave, Thursday, for Alaska.

Frank Knowles, the old pioneer of Daunt, has moved back to his place above Coburn's dump. We believe that it was Newt Crabtree who discovered the soda spring at Springville in 1870. Mr. Crabtree has lived to see a town grow up around the spring he located 30 years ago.

M. F. Trent will run the engine at the Young saw mill this summer.

Mrs. Della Yale of San Francisco arrived in Porterville Sunday to visit her sister, Mrs. J. B. Sutherland, who, we are sorry to state, is very ill.

T. W. Howell, and wife, of Poplar, went to Visalia, Monday.

When you are buying flour, be sure to get Porterville flour, the best on the market.

An ice cream social and basket lunch will be held at Plano next Saturday for the benefit of the cemetery.

W. G. Collier is improving his newly-acquired residence on Third street.

Vandalia 4-H Plans Juice Sale

Plans for a fresh orange juice stand at 4-H Achievement day, slated for the Tulare fair grounds, tomorrow, were made by the Vandalia 4-H club at a recent meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bowker, with Twyla Wilson in charge.

Oranges for juice will be donated by club members and parents, and money raised will go into the club fund.

Other business included a discussion of plans for summer camp at Whitaker Forest, with the Vandalia group to attend during the week of July 11-17.

During the evening, a swim in the Bowker plunge and a potluck supper was enjoyed. The evening was concluded with a "pig demonstration" by John Reece and John Bowker.

Annual Memorial Poppy Sale Planned Tomorrow By Auxiliary In Community

Annual memorial poppy sale, for the benefit of disabled war veterans and their families, will be conducted in this community tomorrow (May 22) by members of Porterville Post No. 20, The American Legion Auxiliary, with Mrs. Cyrille Faure in charge.

The poppies are made by disabled veterans, with the poppy making project providing the only means of earning money for many disabled men. Fund raised by the sale of poppies is used to aid needy families of disabled veterans and to provide care for children of disabled veterans.

Poppies became the symbol of sacrifice following the first world war, after Allied troops had fought their way across poppy-studded fields of Europe in the final, victorious drives against the German army.

Among those women working on the local poppy sale with Mrs. Faure are: Mesdams Claude Nelson, Hugh Monroe, Amy Towle and Art Falconer.
